

Why are you better off with a Bitpalast® web design?

- ✓ Each Bitpalast® web design is unique & fully compatible with search engines!
Bitpalast® web designs are designed from scratch. Other providers work largely with stale designs from prefabricated templates. Each Bitpalast® website design is fully compatible with search engines! Others may dazzle you with "Flash" websites, but sites made with "Flash" are ignored by search engines. Bitpalast® websites, on the other hand, achieve demonstrably high placings in search engines and direct a decisively larger number of customers to your pages.
- ✓ Production by qualified Bitpalast® promotional designers & technical professionals
At Bitpalast® you are supported by marketing experts, communication scientists, and technology specialists. Unlike other advertising agencies, Bitpalast® has more than 15 years' expertise in computing and networking technology. Bitpalast® operates web servers in many countries and is the partner of one of the financially strongest and most experienced Internet service companies in the world: NTT/VERIO. This means that a Bitpalast® website is not only optimally tuned in terms of design, but also in terms of the technology behind it. Plus you can order your Bitpalast® web site in German, English, French, Spanish, and many other languages.¹ The translation is done by native speakers.
- ✓ You can maintain your Bitpalast® website yourself & still receive technical support.
Bitpalast® gives you independence. Your website is designed so you maintain it easily later on. But Bitpalast® is always on hand to help with tricky tasks. You can ask our technical support for assistance, or you can order website changes at reasonable rates from Bitpalast®.
- ✓ Exact costs are known before project kick-off
As Bitpalast®'s charges for services instead of hours, your project is always within budget. You know exactly how much your website is going to cost.
- ✓ Modular system provides low production costs and high performance
Bitpalast® provides popular website functions as program modules. Each module provides real cash savings compared to having the feature programmed from scratch. Bitpalast® web design modules are flexible and are matched to your personal requirements. The adaptation is included in the price of each module. You too can benefit from these tried and tested solutions!
